2. Third country citizen employed in foreign companies

2.1 Foreign companies with their domicile (headquarter) in an EU country other than Sweden may register ID06 cards to third-country citizen who have an EU Residence Permit card issued in the EU country of where the foreign company have its headquarter. The EU card must indicate Residence Permit on the front page and also be indicated with the right to work or other text with similar meaning. The text may be written in English, Work Permit, but is usually given in the country's own language on the front or the back side of the EU Residence Permit card. The EU Residence Permit card, indicated with the right to work, gives the third country citizen the right to work temporarily for 3 months in Sweden together with a contract or agreement. EU card indicated by Permanent Residence Permit also applies and doesn't need to be stated with the right to work. That right is included in a Permanent Residence Permit.

Documents to be submitted by the ordering companies are:

- A photocopy of the third country citizen's residence permit card indicated by Residence Permit and Work Permit. This is usually stated in the language from where the citizen comes from and can be found on the front or the back side of the card.

ID06 cards can be issued with a validity of maximum three months. However, ID06 cards can be issued for longer than three months if the person also has a Swedish residence permit issued by the Swedish Migration agency in Sweden. The ID06 card can then be issued with the same validity period as the Swedish residence permit. In this case, a Swedish work permit is not needed.

2.2 A third country citizen that is a specialist in an international group: Can work temporarily in Sweden for the group for a shorter time than one year without a work permit. It must be proven that the company, that orders the ID06 card to the third country citizen, is part of a group.
